VOL. XXIII. ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 9, 1892. PRICE FIVE CENTS

THE SAME MEN

Who Have Fought Governor Hill Here-

THE MURRAY HILL MUGWUMPS

Were Fully as Sour Four Years Ago as Now.

AND HILL CAN DO WITHOUT THEM,

Just as He Did When They Were Knif-ing the Democratic State Ticket in 1888.

WASHINGTON, February 8 .- [Special.]-The fact ought to be universally known all over this country that the New York attack upon Governor Hill is no new conception; that there is no novelty in it; that it is the movement of 1888 over again, engineered by practically the same people, at the same place and for the same and no other purpose—the discomfiture and defeat of Governor Hill.

These persons have called a meeting at Cooper Union on February 11, 1892, to protest against the regularly called democratic state convention and to "consider and decide upon the necessary measures to secure the best interests of the democratic party."

These same persons—to all intents and pur-poses—called a meeting at Cooper Union on September 7, 1888, of those "opposed to the renomination of David B. Hill" for governor, "to protest against such nomination. There appeared in the New York papers of that date the following advertisement, which is here reproduced, headlines and all: Tonight (Friday), September 7th. At the great Tonight (Friday), September 7th. At the great hall, Cooper Union, mass meeting of the supporters of Cleveland and Thurman to protest against the renomination of David B. Hill. Among the speakers will be Wneeler H. Peckham, Henry George, George D. Kernan and others.

Call—The undersigned, citizens of New York, supporters of Cleveland and Thurman, request all citizens of New York, who are in favor of the election of the democratic national ticket, but who are opposed to the renomination of David B. Hill for governor of the state of New York, to attend a public meeting to be held at Cooper Union, Friday evening, September 7th, to protest against such nomination.

There were 176 names signed to this call, and at the bottom of the list were the words:

"And several hundred others." The first name was that of Everett P. Wheeler. He it is who, at the Murray Hill hotel conference January 29th, spoke of the "insolent and arrogant" course of the state committee, and the "high handed" attempt to force Governor Hill upon the party as a presidential candidate. Other signers to the 1888 call, whose names are familiar to general readers, were John DeWitt Warner, now congressman; Wheeler H. Peckham, H. deForest Baldwin, ex-Mayor Franklin Edson, Henry George, ex-Governor D. H. Chamber-lain, St. Clair M. Kelway, Oswald Ottendorfer, Calvin Tomkins, Walter S. Logan, Louis F. Post, Walter R. Lawrence, George Haven Putnam, Fordyce D. Barker, R. R. Bowker, Horace E. Deming, Charles Condert, Anson Phelps Stokes and Henry Marquand. The meeting was duly held, The New York Times, in its report of it, saying: "Had the great hall of the Cooper Union been twice its size, it would have been filled last night with democrats who are opposed to the renomina-tion of David B. Hill for the governorship of New York. It was a meeting called by promi-nent democrats who have at heart only the welfare of the state."

Wheeler H. Peckham presided and there was the usual lot of vice presidents and secretaries. J. DeWitt Warner read an address from which the following is an extract:

David B. Hill is not a democrat. He has betrayed his trust to his party and his trust to the people. We charge him with having set the constitution of this state at defiance and lost the democratic party the control of the national and state legislatures and the consequent loss of the Mills bill in the United States senate. We charge him with having entered into nefarious deals with republican partisans to rob the treasury of a great city. We charge him with having entered into deals with republican partisans to give them con-trol of the railway commission in exchange for an office in the state prisons for one of his personal followers. We charge him with hypocrisy; that, while pretending to be strictly a democrat, he has nevertheless nominated to office more republicans than were ever before nominated by democratic governor, and we ask you to compare his record in this regard with that of Governors Tilden, Robinson and Cleveland. We charge him with having brought his party into disrepute by surrounding himself and his office with dishones and disreputable men. His career falsifies his declaration: "I am a democrat."

This "democratic" meeting hissed Governor Hill, cheered the address and then adopted it with great enthusiasm, and appointed a com mittee to present it to the state convention. Speeches, denunciatory of the governor, were made by Wheeler H. Peckham, John D. Kernan, Henry George and Walter S. Logan.

Commenting editorially the next morring The New York Times said that the democratic leaders would find food for sober reflection in that unprecedented meeting, and that these people opposed Governor Hill because as honest men they could not and would not vote for him. On the next day (September 9th) The Times came again to the charge and said every Cleveland paper in the city, except one, was against Hill. On September 10th it editorially denounced him as a worthless delnagogue and trickster, and predicted his defeat at the polls. It returned to the attack the next day

The convention was held September 12th, each assembly district being represented by three delegates, or 384 in all. There was no candidate for governor but Hill. He was re nominated by acclamation and his conduct of the gubernatorial office for nearly four years was as unanimously approved.

On September 13th The Times editorially said the independents and mugwumps would derive their greatest satisfaction from the election of Cleveland and their next greatest from the defeat of Hill. Now, if Messrs. Everett P. Wheeler, Wheeler H. Peckham, H. deForest Baldwin and the rest of them "voted as they shot," they gave Mr. Warner Miller, the republican, the benefit of their thoroughly enlightened and unbiased suffrage. As honest men, according to The Times, presumably the only honest men in the vicinage, they could not and would not vote for David B. Hill, so turning republican pro hac vice, as it were, they scratched the governor's name and plumped one apiece for the gentleman who fell outside the breastworks. They set out to' hold a meeting, make a noise, get favorable mention in mugwump and republican newspapers and beat Hill. They succeeded admirably, except in one particular—they did not defeat Mr. Hill.

In New York city, where they held their meeting, Governor Hill had more than sixtynine thousand majority, and in New York state he had 19,000 majority, which was over eight thousand more than he had in 1885.

These worthy citizens are as wise in 1892 as they were in 1888, and no wiser; as influential this year as four years ago, and no more so; as competent to defeat Mr. Hill for president as they were for governor, but no more competent in the one case than in the other.

They are a set of sour, discontented, impractical persons, who might just as well be called republicans as democrats. They are as true to one party as the other, having no use for either unless they can control it. In 1888 they hurt Mr. Cleveland by their most zealous support and aided Mr. Hill by their fiercest opposition. All theories as to their influence must conform themselves to this years hard fact. sition. All theories as to their influence must conform themselves to this very hard fact. HENRY JONES.

A SLANDERER RUN OUT.

Citizens of Fort Valley Induce Him to Leave Town.

FORT VALLEY, Ga., February 8 .- [Special.] A small sensation was unearthed here over the report that one C. S. Woodard, a railroad tele graph operator, who was sent here a few days ago from Smithville, had remarked down there that he did not believe there was a virtuous woman in the whole south, for which the good people of that town made him leave without nony.

The News in Fort Valley. Smithville parties sent information of Woodard's remarks down here and a party of prominent citizens waited on Woodard immediately, and informed him that he must leave the town within twenty-four hours, or he would be harshly dealt with and the town would not protect him. Woodard took his command very philosophically. It did not seem to exert him in the least, and as a proof of his coolness he took a stroll over the town late in the afternoon.

An Impudent Proceeding.

An Impudent Proceeding.

He overtook two of our most prominent young ladies on one of the back streets, and asked them if they had any objections to a gentleman's company. They told him no, but could not allow any stranger to accompany them. This did not baffle Woodard, and he continued at their side until the ladies found it necessary to enter a friend's residence to evade him. When they had left him so absurbly he did not sagn to be in any hurry to ruptly he did not seem to be in any hurry to get away from the gate, and rather lingered there, waiting for them to come out again, but as they did not return he sauntered off.

as they did not return he sauntered off.

The young ladies very sensibly kept the knowledge of this advance to themselves until this morning, but Woodard had taken advantage of his notification and had left on a night train, first informing Postmaster Keen where to forward his mail. Woodard told parties he was going back to Ohio and leave the hellish south. Citizens residing here from Ohio denounce Woodard as a villain, and would not hesitate to handle him roughly if they could get their hands on him.

PAYMENT FOR SLAVES, A Colored Man Running for Congress on a Strange Platform. RALEIGH, N. C., February 8.—[Special.]— In today's issue of his newspaper, The Gazette, published here, Editor John H. Williamson, colored, announces himself as a candidate for congress. He intimated last week that he would be a candidate.

Williamson says his platform will be com-pensation for the ex-slaves as proposed by President Lincoln, who, at the time he made his famous proposition, admitted that they were the lawful property of those claiming to be their masters, and proposed to pay $300 each for them, liberate them and stop the war.

Williamson declares that letters from all parts of the country commend his views. He says as a war measure the constitutional mendment prohibiting the compensation of the owners of slaves was well enough, but it is now time to wipe out the causes which divide the two sections of the union, "and in my opinion," he writes, "there is no more just solution of this greatest of all the negro problems than the payment of $300 for such slaves according to the census of 1860, with interest to date at 6 per cent. If we love the union, both north and south, as we often proclaim, pay this debt. If the dividing line between the north and the south is to be wiped out, pay for the slaves. As a former slave, I favor this and shall endeavor to bring it about. There will then be no bad blood between the races, and the negro will no longer be the bone of contention. As a further mark of justice I propose that the money appropriated be equally divided between the former master and slave, or their

The Charge of Agnacio Romerez Against United States Soldiers.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., February 8. - In a letter adressed to General Stanley, Agnacio Romerez, of Camargo, but having a ranch in Texas, charges that Captain J. G. Bourke, in his recent expe-ditions on the 24th ultimo, visited his ranche, where his wife was made to open the house, after which his wife was made to open the house, after which all the household effects were gone through. Romerez says his wife, with her baby in her arms, complained to the soldiers, and was further terrified by Captain Bourke threatening to burn the house. Romerez claims that they were taken in custody and treated like prisoners, and placed in a guardhouse infested with vermin. He says he intends to bring his case before the state department through the Mexican government.

An Important Case.

DALLAS, Tex., February 8.-[Special.]-A case of very great importance to the commercial world was decided in the district court of Dallas county today. It has been held by the supreme court at one time, that the effects of a non-resident in the hands of a custodian were not subject to garnishment. In this case the plaintiff and defendant were both non-residents but the jury found a verdict for the plaintiff and gave him the effects of the defendant which were held by the custodian under garnishment. This definitely settles that question.

New YORK, February 8.—Carlyle W. Harris, the medical student who was convicted last Tuesday of murdering his young wife by morphine poisoning, was sentenced to death by Recorder Smyth in the court of general sessions this morning, after a motion for a new trial had been denied. Recorder Smyth in passing sentence said that no other verdict could have been rendered according to the eviginning March 21st. His counsel gave notice. ginning March 21st. His counsel gave notice of an appeal.

SENATOR COLQUITT IN A RUNAWAY

Which Came Near Being Dangerous-The Augusta Delegation Appears Before the Committee.

Washington, February 8 .- [Special.]-The Blaine letter has been the talk of Washington today.

Some of Mr. Blaine's friends are angry that he should have retired from the contest. They say he could have been nominated and elected without the shadow of a doubt.

There are a large number of republicans here, as well as elsewhere, who are despisers of Mr. Harrison, and who would resort to almost anything to prevent his renomination. Now that Mr. Blaine is out, these men have already commenced work agitating the name of other prominent republicans, who entertain political aspirations. A great many of the anti-Harrison men will flock to the standard of Russell A. Alger, of Michigan, and will make a great effort to nominate him. Of course, Alger will open his barrel, and they believe with its aid there is at least a chance to defeat Harrison. However, the prevailing opinion is that Mr. Blaine's withdrawal means Mr. Harrison's renomination Indeed, conservative men of both parties know this Is Mr. Blaine Really Out?

It can mean nothing else yet. There are, of course, some who believe that Mr. Blaine is not sincere or honest in his letter. They say that his letter will not prevent his friends from voting for him in the convention, nor will it prevent Mr. Blaine from accepting the nomnation if tendered. Even such an astute polination if tendered. Even such as it includes the itician as Senator Sherman is not prepared to say that he believes letter puts Mr. Blaine out of it. When asked this evening what he thought of the letter, Senator Sherman replied promptly:

"I don't know. It will take me two or three days to make up my mind just what it

When asked if he would be a candidate, Senator Sherman replied with almost a show

"No, sir, I am no I don't want it."
"You would not discourage your friends it they should make an effort to bring about your nomination?

"Yes I would. I have been in three contests of the kind before, and I don't want to try it again. I am tired of being bought and sold."
The senator said nothing more, but it is evident his reference in the last sentence was to his treatment in the Chicago convention of '88.

The Augusta People in the Capital. The Augusta delegation appeared before the river and harbor committee this morning They asked for an appropriation of $75,000 for the Savannah river between Augusta and Savannah, and $35,000 to improve the river above Augusta and make it navigable for pole boats. The only thing needed between Atlanta and Savannah to make a five-foot channel all the year around, is the removal of the snags and several sand bars. Speeches were made by Hon. Patrick Walsh, Mayor J. H. Alexander, Colonel Edge Eve and Mr. Martin, of Port Royal. The committee was impressed with the enormous amount of business done by the city of Augusta, and several memfull amount asked for, something which is not often given. Thus if a river and harbor bill passes this congress, a thing which some be-lieve to be doubtful, Augusta will get all the money recommended by the government engineer for the improvement of the Savannah

Senator Colquitt in Danger.

Senator Colquitt had a narrow escape yesterday afternoon. Indeed, it looked at one time as though he would be dashed to pieces. The senator ordered a coupe in which to up town yesterday afternoon. Senator Colquitt does not often ride in a coupe, but the streets were slippery with ice, and he thought that it would be safer to ride. As the cabman was driving up Pennsylvania avenue an undertaker's wagon came dashing up the street.

The horse was running away, and he dashed into the coupe containing Senator Colquitt. tore one of the front wheels off, threw the driver from his seat, and immediately the coupe horse dashed off at full tilt, turning the vehicle over. It being a closed vehicle, Senator Colquitt was in a very dangerous position, as the glass doors were shattered the vehicle upset. The horse ran when Several hundred yards, struck a tree and tore loose from the carriage. Immediately a crowd rushed up to find Senator Colquitt in the midst of a mass of debris. His face and clothing were splashed with fresh blood clothing were splashed with fresh blood stains, and at first those who had rushed to the rescue believed that he had been seriously injured. They removed him from the remains of the coupe and carried him into a near by building, but the senator in a few moments found himself all right. The glass from the broken doors had rested his hand slightly. It bled profusely right. The glass from the broken doors had gashed his hand slightly. It bied profusely, however, and covered his clothing with blood. Strange to say, the cut on his hand was his only injury. He decided then that he preferred tolwalk even on the ice to riding in a coupe. The senator now says that walking is good enough for him even in Washington.

the fire, and it began to sweep eastward. The firemen were forced back at every point by the resistless furly of the flames, and in a short time the "Ruby" saloon and the saloon of J. G. Mayer, adjoining the building, were destroyed. Eastward and to the south of where the blaze stsrted the fire went on. Soon Lemmon & Gale's wholesale dry goods store was a mass of ruins. H. Wetter's hardware store and William Jack's china store were the next to be destroyed, and W. N. Wilerson's wholesale drug store was next reached. It was thought this aplendid structure, with its well-known fireproof walls, would prove a barrier to the flames, but the fire crept in upon the stock of inflammable drugs from the side and roar, and it was soon blazing fiercely. Again the wind veered to the west, and the fire castward to Second street. Jones, Huhn & Co.'s printing establishment was burned to ashes in a short time.

The Lilly Carriage Company, on Second street, The Lilly Carriage Company, on Second street, next caught and the rear portion of their factory with part of stock was destroyed. The firemen on Second street meanwhile gained foothold and began to keep the fire within the block. Wind died about this time, which probably saved W. S. Bruce's carriage factory and one or two smaller buildings, which alone were left in the block. The block destroyed is bounded by Main, Union, Second and Monroe streets, and is in the heart of the dry goods district of the city. The loss will reach $1,000,000. No lives were lost.

extended his hand, remarking:

"How do you do, governor?"

Governor Boyd bowed, but ignored the outstretched member. Governor Thayer flushed slightly, and asked if he could be of any assistance, and receiving a negative reply left the room. Governor Boyd held an informal reception in the executive parlors. Governor Boyd was asked if he intended to make a clean sweep of the republican officeholders. He intimated that such action was in contemplation, but he was in no particular hurry. It is predicted, however, that before the end of the week all of Governor Boyd's previous appointments will be invited to return. A number of Governor Thayer's appointees have tendered their resignations.

The duration of the contact was forty-five seconds. In a few seconds after the current was cut off by order of Dr. McDonald, froth issued from the mouth, and almost simultaneously there was a mouth, and almost simultaneously there was a quick gurgling exhalation, and as quick recovery, like a person straugling from water going the wrong way. The current was at once reapplied, and continued forty-five seconds. The commissioners considered the evidence and took the case under advisement. They decided to give it still further attention and postponed all action in the matter.

During the progress of the case there was a brief but stormy colloquy.

"That man there," said Cunningham, when on the stand, as he pointed to Mr. Leftwich, "is at the bottom of it all. He has egged the matter on."

"I have told you once," replied the lawyer, warmly, "that it is false, and I tell you again that you have lied."

Mr. J. S. Brooks, a freman of the Georgia Pacific railroad, who was injured in the collision near Birmingham in October, 1890, received a verdict in Judge Van Eppe's court yesterday for $9,000. He was represented by Mr. Burton Smith.

Engineer Curlee was badly injured in the same accident and received a verdict in the Birmingham courts some time ago for $10,000.

The case was called yesterday morning and was argued and concluded before dinner, Hon. Pope Barrow representing the road.

No other cases were tried in Judge Van Eppe's court. The case of Nickerson vs. the Georgia Pacific will be begun today.

Two Divorce Suits.

Two Divorce Suits. Two Divorce Suits.

John W. Wallace was yesterday sued for a total divorce by the wife, Sarah J. Wallace.

She alleges that he is habitually intoxicated, and has become a United States soldier, and she cannot longer live with him. She is represented by J. A. Anderson.

Nancy Thomas also filed a suit for divorce from Joe Thomas, on the ground of adultery. Mr. H. C. Erwin is her attorney.

Judge Marshall J. Clarke will leave for Florida in a day or so for a short sojourn.

Will Be Felt Over the Federal Building Appropriation—Suit Against the R. & D,
The supposed misappropriation of the funds given by the last congress for the completion and improvement of the Atlanta postoffice has been explained.

the government officers thought, but simply a misunderstanding as to the original amount of the appropriation and the purpose for which it was intended.

The amount of the appropriation to be used on the Atlanta postoffice was $9,000. This included the construction of the steam-heating apparatus for the federal building, and that's where the misunderstanding arose. General Lewis, the postmaster, was under the impression that this amount was for the completion and improvement of the postoffice, and that the steam heater was a separate and disinct department.

After the introduction of the bill Senator Colquitt had it amended by the insertion of a clause making an appropriation of $6,000 for the putting in of an elevator. After the bill passed, and was sent to the treasury department a clerk discovered that a previous appropriation had been made for the elevator, and the elevator portion was stricken out. This left the full amount of the appropriation $9,000 for the completion and equipment of the postoffice and the construction of the steam-heating apparatus. The amount of that sum consumed in building the steam heater left very little for the postoffice, consequently General Lewis found it necessary to apply for an additional appropriation to complete the work on the postoffice.

The G., C. and N. Mail Route.

The G., C. and N. Mail Route. The Georgia, Carolina and Northern mail route was yesterday extended from Clinton, S. C., to Athens, Ga.

Some time ago Superintendent L. M. Terrell, of the railway mail service, made an inspection tour over the line, and selected such places as he thought it advisable to establish offices. This in-formation and the report of the schedule of the railroad and other matters pertaining to the hand-ling of the mail he sent to the postoffice depart-ment for approval. The report was approved and the mail contract returned to be signed by the railroad company. Everything was put in prepa-ration, and yesterday the first mail was carried over the road. They hope to extend the service on into Atlanta within a short time. Some time ago Superintendent L. M. Terrell, of

A Damage Suit.

J. W. Hill was carried into Judge Newman's court yesterday on a stretcher.

He is the plaintiff in a heavy damage suit against the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company. In April, 1891, Hill alleges that while in the employment of the defendant company, and while engaged in discharging his duties, under a car in the Richmond and Danville yards in this city, the car was struck by an engine and knocked over him. He was so seriously injured that he has never sufficiently recovered as to be able to walk. The case will probably last several days.

The accident happened about 8 o'clock, at Atlanta junction, a small station twelve miles this side of Rome. Alexander was standing between two cars in the act of coupling them. The train backed very suddenly and threw the man down.

He was on a trestle, and fell almost through. Unfortunately, however, he was caught hanging by his head, and in an instant was decapitated by the moving train. His body fell through to the ground below and the sight was a most horrible one.

As soon as the terrible accident was discovered, the trainmen quickly rushed to their fellow laborer. They were shooked at the fearful tragedy and were completely unnerved at the sight.

Alexander was taken up and his body placed on board a car and then sent to Chattanooga to be prepared for burial. The dead trainman had been in the em ploy of the road for some time and has time of his death he was freight conductor and had held that position for a long while. Alexander's home was in Chattanooga, though he had a large number of acquaintances in Atlanta, often coming here on his

A NEGRO SHOT

By Marshal W. D. Profit, of Lithonia-He Will Die. Will Die.

Scott Johnson, a negro, is dying at Lithonia from a bullet wound.

Sunday night Marshal W. D. Profit was summoned to Johnson's house by two women who wished him arrested. The officer started to take the negro away, when he grabbed a heavy stick and struck Profit over the head.

He started to strike the marshal again, when the officer shielded himself from the force of the blow by raising his hand. The moment he was struck a second time, he drew his pistol and shot his assailant.

Notwithstanding the early hour there was, a large assemblage on the quay awaiting the arrival of the channel steamer, which brought the body from France. Many persons went to New Haven yesterday from London, and some of them remained up all night so as to be sure to be at the quay when the steamer came in. The coffin was enclosed in wood case, and before it was taken to the train that was to convey it to London this case was taken off and broken into small pieces. The crowd eagerly selzed upon, to them, priceless pieces of wood, and carried them off to be preserved as relies of the occasion.

TOBACCO IN GEORGIA.

Admirable Soil in South Georgia for Its Cultivation.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY FROM MACON:

The Widows of Nine Counties-Judge Miller's Decision-General Gossip of the Day.

Macon, Ga., February 8 .- [Special.]-Here is something that will be read with deep in-terest by the people of Georgia, especially those who are interested in its agricultural wealth. After a thorough investigation into the character of the soil at various points along character of the soil at various points along the Georgia Southern and Florida road, Messrs. Waters and Devenish, of the Modern Tobacco Barn Company, of Oxford, N. C., returned to Macon this morning. The trip, as far as tobacco culture in southern Georgia is concerned, was a most successful one, and as a result over 250 acres will be planted at once under the direction of expert growers. To The Constitution Mr. Waters talked at length this morning upon the coming Georgia crop. The gentleman was enthusiastic in his praises of south Georgia land, and is determined to show his confidence in tobacco growing on the Georgia Southern by several heavy investments.

"I will stake my reputation," said he, "that in less than three years, you will have in Macon one of the coming tobacco markets of the country. We found some of the finest tobacco lands in the country along the route and could have placed any number of our barns, but refused all applications until the experiment has proven to be a success in every way.

experiment has proven to be a success in every way.

"Such soil as we saw will easily grow 1,000 to 1,200 pounds of good tobacco for chewing and smoking purposes. In North Carolina the growers top the plant when it reaches twelve leaves. Here we can let it go to eighteen leaves and save every leaf. We will build one of our barns at Cycloneta, three at Tifton, and at other points one or two for the present season. We will start next week building and in ten days will have several experts here to take charge of the various farms. In all we will bring ten or twelve men from North Carolina. They will direct operations, attend to the planting, gathering and curing for market, so that no mistakes can be made and the crop placed in good shape before the buyers.

"At first, most of the tobacco from along the road will be shipped to Winston or Richmond, but by next season, the buyers will be coming here, so as to get first picking. I am afraid that the growing of tobacco will be overdone this season and would advise all who intend to go into the business to be conservative until they get the necessary experience. Tifton and vicinity will have about one hundred and fifty acres, of which we will personally manage thirty acres of our own investment. By another season along the entire road will be scattered curing barns, and tobacco will be the king instead of cotton. Where North Carolina growers get 500 pounds to the acre, Georgia growers will raise 1,000 pounds. The prospects are indeed flattering."

Mr. Devenish returned this morning over the road to secure additional information, while Mr. Waters goes tonight to North Carolina.

WIDOWS OF NINE COUNTIES

Receive Their Pension Money at the Cen-tral Georgia Bank.

Receive Their Pension Money at the Central Georgia Bank.

Macon, Ga., February 8.—[Special.]—
Twenty-one thousand and three hundred dollars have been placed by the state at the Central Georgia bank of Macon for the payment of pensions to the confederate widows of the following nine counties:
Bibb, Jones, Twiggs, Upson, Wilkinson, Pulaski, Telfair, Houston and Talbot. The widows receive from the ordinaries of their respective counties a check for the amount of the pensions, $100 each, and the checks are then cashed at the Central Georgia bank, the state depository for this section. In Bibb there are sixty-seven widows and they have all drawn their pensions, a total of $6,700. Out of the twenty widows in Jones county, twelve have drawn their pensions. The widows of the other seven counties have not yet drawn their pensions, though the money is subject to call. No doubt when they read this they will begin to present their checks at the bank. In the seven counties of Twiggs, Upson, Wilkinson, Pulaski, Telfair, Houston and Talbot, there are 126 widows who will draw $12,600.

The Grip.

How to Avoid Its Attacks and How to Recover from Its Effects.

As the grip is undoubtedly caused by some mi-cro-organism carried in and by the air, the best general advice which can be given is to avoid ex posure in inclement weather, and keep you-strength up, your blood in good condition, and your digestive organs in regular action. These last three conditions can best be attained by tak-ting Modiff Sprangella, which so hamily mosts. ing Hood's Sarsaparilla, which so happily meets the requirements that with its protection you Need Not Fear the Grip.

It has been wittily said that the grip "keeps you sick fifteen days after you are well," so slowly is strength recovered. Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found of inestimable value in restoring desired vigor after the grip and also after scarlet fever, malarial fever, diphtheria, pneumonia, and other prostrating diseases. The system finds in Hood's Sarsaparilla the building-up qualities so much needed, through the life-giving properties it imparts to the blood.

the Thomson-Houston company will purchase the line, as it holds a majority of the system's securities. The sale of the road will result in the extension and improvement of the line. All of the mule portion of the road will be converted into electric power. Receiver Winters is now operating eight mills with electric equipments and five mills with mule power. The improvement means first an investment of $75,000 in a new equipment, second about jorty thousand dollars in a new second about lorty thousand dollars in a new power station and shed. The power station will be built at Elm street, an available point for the city. It is thought the property will then earn net to its owners 6 per cent on the entire investment.

that, if it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, you have your money back.

It's a medicine that cures, in all diseases

It's a medicine that cures, in all diseases caused by a torpid liver or impure blood. It's not like the sarsaparillas, which claim to do good in March, April, and May. Althe year round, with equal benefit, it cleanses, invigorates, and builds up the entire system. If you're bilious, "run-down," or dyspeptic, or suffering from any blood-taint or disorder that's the medicine you need. For the worst forms of Scrotula, and in the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases, such as Salt-rheum.

Skin and Scalp Diseases, such as Salt-rheum. Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, and all kindred ailments, nothing can equal it as a perfect and permanent remedy. The genuine sold for $1.00. Beware of spurious imitations or dilutions, offered at less prices.

The use of poor materials in the line of painters' applies for years past in Atlanta has been a rusher to pocketbooks, if not, in many instances, to the reputation of those doing the work. We are catering to that class of trade which appreciates the fact that "the best is the cheapest." In buying of us you are not confined to one line of goods, but have the benefit of our selections from all the most reliable factories in the country, made with the view of securing the specialties in which each manufacturer excels. MASURY'S LIQUID MIXED PAINTS undoubtedly excels all other liquid paints in beauty and lasting qualities. On the other hand, Woolsey's Tinted Leads or paste paints unquestionably excel all others in beauty and utility. Its Relations with the East Tennessee Suggest a Case Nearer Home. The Memphis and Charleston minority stock holders are deeply interested in the forthcoming report of the Richmond Terminal's reorganization

The best guessers in Wall street believe that the Olcott committee will recommend a plan which will embrace the East Tennessee and include it in the reorganization of the Terminal's properties. Now the East Tennessee owns just a little more than one-half of the Memphis and Charleston stock—$2,656,525 of the $5,312,725. For five years stock—$2,656,625 of the $5,312,725. For five years the minority stockholders have been fighting to get out of the clutches of the East Tennessec. The only prospect of getting a settlement is through a consideration of all the properties or the purchase of the minority stock by the East Tennessec. Last year the East Tennessee offered to buy out the minority holders at 80, giving Memphis and Charleston five-per-cent-bonds guaranteed by the Charleston five-per-cent-bonds guaranteed by the East Tennessee at 924. Before the deal was car-ried through the Terminal got in financial trouble ried through the Terminal got in financial trouble and the matter was dropped. I The courts of Alabama and Tennessee have seemed inclined to protect the minority, but the chancellor is still holding his decision in a suit argued in Alabama last year. The East Tennessee's lease of the Memphis and Charleston to itself after the manner of the Central's lease to the Georgia Pacific by the Terminal, was set aside by the courts, but the East Tennessee had put in its own board of directors and they are holding over, the minority having caught themselves by getting a temporary injunction restraining the East Tennessee from voting its stock at an election.

An interesting article in The New York Commercial Bulletin on the relations between the Memphis and Charleston and the East Tennessee will suggest to the Georgia reader some comparisons with the Georgia Pacific and the Central of Georgia. Here is an extract from The Bulletin's article:

isons with the Georgia Pacific and the Central of Georgia. Here is an extract from The Bulletin's article:

"The minority Memphis and Charleston stockholders make numerous charges of unjust management against the East Tennessee party, and claim that the position of the property is such that it should furnish more favorable results from operation. The Memphis and Charleston management does not keep any account of construction and betterments, which since the East Tennessee had control have been very heavy. All expenditures for additions to the company's property are generally charged directly to operating expenses, and must be made out of earnings, as no special fund has been provided for that purpose. The last annual report of the East Tennessee, however, has an item of $110,025 due by the Memphis and Charleston company for advances made. The Memphis and Charleston's annual report for the same period, however, has no reference to this advance; in fact, it shows cash on hand, $23,756; material on hand, $104,658, and about one hundred and seventy thousand dollars of other cash items under operating assets. Under operating iabilities are stated bills payable, $170,000, which probably offset the amount charged up for material. It would seem that an east Tennessee advance not specified in the Memphis and Charleston report must have been a temporary loan for Memphis and Charleston interest payable July 1st, but such a statement cannot be definitely made. Among the charges made against the Kast Tennessee management is understood to be one to the effect that the division of through freight rate with the East Tennessee on some classes of business is too favorable for the Tennessee officials. The operating expenses of the Memphis and Charleston road have averages of late years nearly 70 per cent (in 1891 they were 70.82 per cent, whereas the percentage of expenses on the East Tennessee officials. The operating expenses of the Memphis and Charleston road have averages of late years nearly 70 per cent (in 1891 they were 70

The Case Against the Negro Driver Comes

Charles Harris, the driver for Chamberlin, Johnson & Co., who ran over Mrs. Allman near the city hall four weeks ago, was arraigned before the reorder yesterday afternoon.
The charge against him was reckless driving.

A number of witnesses were examined, but it was considered necessary to have the testimony of Mrs. Allman, and the case went over until next Tuesday morning.

Dr. Griffin is of the opinion that the lady will be able to appear in court at that time. She is getting along very nicely, and has almost entirely recovered. Harris is out under a bond of $500. He is represented in the case by Judge W. R. Hammond. Tetter, Ringworm, Eczema, GroundItch

DEATHS IN ATLANTA.

The Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spauld ing Dead-Other Deaths.

Elsa, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Spaulding, of 472 Peachtree, died at 4:30 E. C. Spaulding, of 472 Peachtree, died at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She was a beautiful child, whom everybody that knew her loved, with a sweet disposition and bright, cheerful nature, that will make her loss the saddest of afflictions for her parents and family. Several days ago she was attacked with pneumonia, and her suffering was intense before the end. The funeral services will take place at the family residence at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The interment will be made in Westview cemetery.

The five-year-old son, and the only child, of Patrolman Shepard died yesterday afternoon. The little boy was almost worshiped by his parents, and his death is a sad blow to them. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock p. m. today, the interment taking place at Oakland.

another column of this paper. The Insurance Spectator, in a recent issue, has this to say of the company:

"The policyholders of this company who reside in New York are made aware of the biginning of a new year by the appearance in their morning papers, of January 1st, of the annual statement of the United States Lafe. This is but one instance of the promptness which characterizes the whole company's business. In the year 1891, in common with the other active life companies, the United States has prospered in all its undertakings. Its balance sheet shows a handsome increase in assets, which now amount to $6,737,938, supplemented by a proportionately large increase in surplus, which by the New York Standard (actuaries' 4 per cent) has reached $649,041. During the past few years this company has made a strong bid for an increased business, and backed by sterling qualities in its administration, it has met with a good deal of success, as is shown by the fact that in 1888 its business exceeded $9,000,000; in 1890 it was nearly $12,000,000, and in 1891 it exceeded $14,000,000. In short, the business has increased over 100 per cent in four years. Payments to policyholders last year amounted to $742,118, bringing the grand total paid since organization up to $15,889,003. Two policies which this company issues have met with great favor among the insuring public. They may be briefly described as follows: The "Continuable Term Policy" gives to the insured the greatest possible amount of indemnity in the event of death at the lowest possible present cash outlay. The "Guaranteed Income Policy" embraces every valuable feature of investment insurance and may be used as collateral security for a loan to the extent of the full legal reserve value. With these two policies the company will continue its successful career in 1892, and be able to show on January 1, 1893, still larger gains. The company's officers, it is needless to say, are men of large experience in their business. George H. Burford, president, was recently electe company are appreciated here, and that the agency is abreast of the times.

"What Is the Matter With Cleveland."

Editor Watterson, a few days ago, in his light and breezy style-a style that causes the newspaper business to bump its head against the lamp posts of literature-made a very interesting inquiry. "What," said he, "is the matter with Cleveland?" We do not know whether this was intended to be a keynote or a conundrum, but it is certainly an inquiry that deserves to be studied at this time, especially by the democrats of the south, who are more keenly interested in the success of the democratic party than the people of any other section. In other parts of the country the democrats see in the success of their party the fruits of tariff reform, financial relief and an honest and economical administration of the government; but in the south the democrats see all this and something more besides. They see the safety of their social organization and freedom from the evil effects of such extraconstitutional legislation as the force bill. For this and other reasons the south is more seriously interested in democratic success than any other section; and, because of this interest, Editor Watterson's conundrum has more serious suggestions than he intended it should have.

For, just at this particular time, the democrats of the south would like very much to know what is the matter with Mr. Cleveland. They are anxious to know why he permits his name and whatever influence he may have to be employed in an attack on a democratic organization, the stability and unity of which is absolutely essential to democratic success. They are not at all concerned for the democratic organization, for that, guided by the inflexible and invincible David Bennett Hill, is secure against the attacks of weak-minded mugwumps and weak-kneed democrats; but they would like to know why Mr. Cleveland permits his name to be used as the leader of this attempt to batter down the democratic organization. In other words, the playful conundrum of Editor Watterson, "What is the matter with Cleveland?" assumes the shape of a momentous inquiry. When Pearson, an active republican partisan, was retained as postmaster of New York city, with all the powerful machinery of the office under his control. thoughtful democrats were inclined to inquire, "What is the matter with Cleveland?" When, during the campaign of 1888, Mr. Blaine, thundering before a New York audience, declared that the administration had either failed to find republican rascals to turn out, or honest democrats to put in office-basing his declaration on the fact that a democratic president had retained 74 per cent of the partisan republicans found in office-thoughtful democrats asked each other, "What is the matter with Cleveland?" When the collapse came, when it was found that the de had not only failed to carry his own state, but had been defeated in his own town and county, the inquiry became more pertinent still-"What is the matter with Cleveland?"

And now it has become momentous. In the state of New York, where democratic success is absolutely essential to the success of the party in the national campaign, we see an association of mugwumps and democrats who have grown gray in their efforts to betray the party engaged in an effort to break down the democratic organization, urging as the basis of their sinister movement a mere question of expediency-a question whether the state convention of the party shall be held on the 22d of February or later. On this question of simple expediency, the views of one democrat are as important as those of another, and there is room only for a friendly differ ence of opinion. This is the whole point in There is not a flaw in the method by which the convention has been called; its regularity is unquestioned; and yet, in the face of these facts we see the friends of Mr. Cleveland organizing a bolt for the purpose of splitting and disorganizing the party. We trust the democrats of Georgia and of the south clearly understand the meaning of this movement. If it is successful it means the defeat of the party in New York and throughout the country; and if it fails, the failure will not be due to the lack of any effort on the part of the Cleveland contingent.

We ask the democrats of Georgia to seriously consider this situation. All that there is of Clevelandism in Mr. Cleveland's own state is concentrated in a movement to disorganize and defeat the democratic party. The proposition is to hold a bolting convention and send Cleveland delegates to the national convention with the firm expectation and belief that the representatives of the party there assembled will ignore the democratic organization of New York, take up the name of Mr. Cleveland, and turn the whole business into a stupid and an expensive farce, which can only end in inevitable defeat. Is this the 'spontaneous, popular upheaval" which we have been told was to make Mr. Cleveland the candidate of his party? Think of it! The mugwumps and political vagabonds of New York state trying to disorganize the democratic party on a question of expediency—the date of holding a convention! The friends of Mr. Cleveland preparing to carry him to the national convention at the head of a contingent of

We invite the attention of the democrats of Georgia te the spectacle; and we trust Editor Watterson will draw near in a spirit of contemplation, and give us an early and a definite reply to his famous conundrum, What is the matter with Cleveland?"

What Blaine's Withdrawal Means. Mr. Blaine's positive refusal to allow his name to go before the national republican convention means the renomination of Harrison and Morton.

The democracy must prepare to fight the same old ticket and all that it signifies. With Harrison as their standard bearer, the republicans will renew their struggle for a bayonet election law, the McKinley robber tariff, the rule of monopolists and goldbugs and a Russianized government, squandering the people's money through its billion-dollar congress. This is what the renomination of Harrison means. It means that the baffled force bill policy will be revived and pushed more vigorously than ever. Harrison and his co-workers are willing to give up many of their pet schemes, but they will never rest satisfied until they see a federal bayonet behind every black ballot!

Against this policy of force, fraud and spoliation the democracy must be solidly arrayed under a leader whose name gives assurance of victory. It is too late now to talk of Cleveland. That talk might do with Blaine as the republican candidate, for the argument might then be used that as he beat Blaine before he would beat him again, and would, therefore, be an available leader. With still greater force it will be suggested that as Harrison beat Cleveland, even in his own state of New York, by 12,000 majority, and in his own home county, it is idle folly to talk of pitting the two men against each other a second time.

Thoughtful and prudent democrats cannot fail to come to the conclusion that the democracy can only hope to succeed by nominating an able and available candidate for the presidency, and in making the selection the choice of New York and the doubtful states should control. As the situation stands, even the most sanguine democrat cannot possibly figure out the election of a democratic president without the electoral vote of New York.

So much for the issues and the men. In this crisis of party affairs the man presented by New York and receiving the democratic nomination will receive our hearty support, whether that man be Grover Cleveland or that victorious and unconquerable democrat, David Bennett Hill!

IT SEEMS a sad conclusion of all that has been said and predicted that the Cleveland movement in New York state should now be represented by a contingent of bolters and disorganizers.

THE MUGWUMP wreckers may be thought to be in their element, but it is not so. Their proper element is the soup, and the democrats of New York will put them there before the season is over.

THE PLACE for Cleveland clubs at this time is in New York state, and even there they could be employed only to aid in assaults on the democratic party.

THE HILL men of Atlanta and of Georgia are not disposed to hide their lights under a bushel. They represent the vitality and activity of the democratic party. Is it any wonder the democrats of New York state are solid for Hill? He has done more for them than Seymour, Tilden and Cleveland all put together. He has wrested the state permanently from the control of the republicans.

BLAINE AND the Louisiana lottery dropped out of politics.

THE MUGWUMP fight against the Hill boom is interesting and picturesque. So is a blind man's effort to put out a prairie fire with a pewter syringe. IN THE lexicon of Hill there is no such word as "fail."

Much of the pleasant talk about Cleveland is in the nature of a tribute to a man of the past, rather than a pledge to a man of today.

'bolt" is not synonymous with "boom." THOUGHTFUL CLEVELAND men are beginning to suspect that there is a good deal of difference between a reminiscence and a reality.

A GREAT SENSATION

Was That Created by The Constitution's Array of Interviews.

THE PEOPLE WANT TO WIN THIS TIME,

And They Want a Nominee Who Can Carry the Doubtful States-The Great Growth of the Hill Sentiment.

The biggest political sensation Atlanta and Georgia have had in a very great while was that produced by THE CONSTI-TUTION'S articles yesterday, reflecting the sentiment of prominent Atlantians in regard to their presidential preferences. Coming at the same time, the poll of the legislature-showing as it did that Mr. Hill is the preference of the great majority of those expressing their views-demonstrated conclusively that the sentiment in favor of Mr. Hill is by no means local, but that the people of every section of Georgia believe that he is the most available man for the party to nominate.

Everybody talked about THE CONSTITU-TION's interviews. The straight-forward, common-sense expressions of opinions from the leading men of Atlanta were read and reread, and on all sides those opinions were endorsed. Hill men are to be found everywhere. If they are not of the firstlast-and-all-the-time variety, they are just as strong in their endorsement of THE Constitution's views that the wish of the doubtful states should be the wish of the party-that we must name the man whose ability to insure New York to the demo cratic party is undoubted.

The comparatively slim attendance at the meeting to organize a Cleveland club last night was an undoubted disappointment to the managers of the meeting. That was, however, to be expected: it was but another endorsement of THE CONSTITUTION'S expressed belief that but few people in Atlanta are ready to put any one man above party success. A great many people whose personal preferences would be for Mr. Cleveland, see that the one thing needful to democratic success is to choose a man who can win, and their sober judgment teaches them that unless Cleveland is the choice of the democratic party of his state it would be folly to force him on the party. They believe that if the democrats of New York ask for the nomina tion of Mr. Hill, or for the nomination of any other man, then that man should be selected as the party's standard bearer. Very many of the men who give Mr. Cleveland as their personal preference, hold these views. The sole and only question in the mind of the average democrat is the question of availability, and nine-tenths of those quoted as supporters and admirers of Cleveland admit that if Mr. Hill is the choice of the New York democracy he should be nominated at Chicago.

There were Hill men everywhere yesterday. THE CONSTITUTION'S interviews were necessarily meager, being gathered on Sunday and at random by such men as reporters could see or reach by telephone. Gath ered under such circumstances, there were more than six columns of short talks with men who are among the most prominent in the city. Sixty columns could have been secured just as easily had the reporters had time to cover the Many people were surprised find the great unaminity of opinion in support of THE CONSTITUTION'S position, as there never had been any effort before to discover who were the Hill men. On all sides they came to the front yesterday and nothing but Hill talk was heard. It is impossible to find space for even the names of all who were heard enthusiastically advocating Mr. Hill's nomination. There is Rev. Walker Lewis, of Trinity church, for instance, who is the strongest kind of a Hill man. A card is printed below from Major John C. Whitner, and it is a card that should be read. "I wish von'd say for me," said Mr. Joe Gatins, of the Central road, "that I am as hot a Hill man as can be found anywhere. I am afraid somebody may be misled by the fact that my brother's name appeared twice in The Journal. I want Hill first, last and all the time."

Colonel Tom Glenn got back from New York vesterday, and says the sentiment there is all one way, and it's all for Hill. Mr. Harrison's right-hand man in Indiana, who was in the city yesterday, says that Harrison and his friends fear Hill beyond all possible candidates.

These are but some exmples. They serve, however, to emphasize the fact that the people want to win, and they believe Hill's they man to win with.

Colonel Glenn Talks. Colonel Tom Glenn has returned from visit to New York. "Everything is crystallized in that part of the republic for Senator Hill, it seemed to me," he said yesterday, lifting his Havana from his lips and blowing up a white cl fragrant smoke with a thoughtful gaze follow ing it as it went up.

'Yes, New York is unmistakably for Hill." he continued, "and he is as certain to be the choice of the party in that state when the convention is called as the sun is certain to rise that day."

'What about Mr. Cleveland?" "Well, I don't know much hat, for I didn't hear much that, it, Mr. Hill has the party solidly at his back, from my observation, and every-body seemed to think that his opponents in this campaign are the same mugwumps as opposed him in all of his other campaigns, and who, by the way, got left in all of those other can paigns.

A Card from Dr. Nelmns.

Dr. J. W. Nelms, who has been quoted as being greatly struck with the rapid growth of the Hill sentiment in Georgia, doesn't want to be understood as being personally ungrateful to Mr. Cleveland. The doctor is a democrat above all else, and wants party success. He writes the following card:

EDITOR CONSTITUTION—In expressing my choice for the democratic candidate for the presidency, I do not wish to be understood as opposing Mr. Cleveland. As you know I am on record for standing by my friends, and the day is too late for me to pursue another policy. If the democratic convention does its duty it will nominate a man upon whom all democrats can unite. Whether the nominee be Mr. Cleveland or Mr. Hill, the country will be safe. We cannot afford to allow the interests of the people to suffer longer. If we can prevent it by laying aside our best friend that we may nominate some one else upon whom all can unite, let it be done. In the writes the following card:

near future we will have an honest government, economically administered. Then peace, prosperity and happiness will be the portion of a long-suffering and much-abused people. I am a democrat and shall abide the action of the convention regardless of personal choice. Respectfully, Ground for Hill. The following letter was received yesterday at THE CONSTITUTION office from that distinguished citizen of Atlanta, Major John C.

Major Whitner is well known throughout Georgia, and has friends in every section of the state. He is a man of level head and of excellent judgment. Belonging himself to the best old Georgia stock, he married a sister of Howell Cobb. His political judgment has lone valuable service, and his advice is mighty sound now.

Major Whitner writes:

He takes occasion to correct such a representation of his position, saying, as will be seen below, that he is for the man who can carry New York and he don't mind saying that Hill suits him mighty well. He writes:

"Mr. Cleveland is undoubtedly stronger with the democracy of New York than Senator Hill. It the entire democratic vote were to be polled, without machine influence, there is no possible question about his getting an overwhelming majority."

As an old New Yorker, who claims to know omething about the situation in that state, I re spectfully submit that Colonel Robert G. Monroe is an ass; else he would not make such an absurd statement as that quoted above. It may be, how-ever, that he is misreprented in the interview, in which case the above forcible expression concern ing the colonel will of course be withdrawn.

A great gathering of the leaders of the Young Men's Christian Association it seems will result.

A negro man displayed a phenomenal amount of courage at the Ivy street hospital Saturday. He has quite a local reputation as a "fiddler." He was recently the victim of an accident that necessitated the amputation of one of his legs. He was at the hospital when the surgeons arrived to con duct the operation. Notwithstanding his serious and painful condition, and the fact that he was to undergo the excruciating agony of having one of his legs, and probably both, cut off, he greeted the surgeons with a broad smile.

His injured limbs were carefully examined, and one of the surgeons with a solemn and significant shake of the head, said:

Bob, it's a bad job; but your legs are in a bad condition, and amputation is necessary. Bob looked up quisically, and asked: "What yer mean by ampertashon, boss?"

"I mean your leg must come off."
"Gee whiz! cap'n, bofe of em?"
"Probably so, I can't tell yet," was the reply.

The smile on the ebony face was at once eded by a dark and troubled look, and Bob began to explain the change thusly:
"Cap'n, if you took bofe dese here mud pedals off I is a ruined nigger shore's God. I will have to quit de perfeshon which I have follered all my life. I doan mine de cuttin' operashon, but you see's I'm a fiddler, an' if you cut bofe legs off I won't have nuthin' left to pat wid, and I will never be no mo' count as a fiddler. Please boss, patch up one leg fur me ter pat wid an' cut other'er

Whether the surgeon was touched by the story or not, he complied with Bob's request, and he still has a leg to pat with.

A Cleveland Club was organized by the sup orters of ex-President Cleveland at the court house last night.

The meeting was advertised to begin at 7:30 clock, but, owing to the failure of an audi ence to appear, it was five minutes past 8 when various knockings on the floor cause the hum of conversation to cease, and a look of attention to overspread the faces of the au-

At that time about half the seats in the asement were filled up, the front ones being taken by the leading supporters of Mr. Cleve being taken up by land, and many of the rear gentlemen who had dropped in out of curiosity A fair estimate of the size of the crowd would make it from two hundred and fifty to three hundred and fifty people. Among these were undoubtedly a good many Hill men and many others who, without having distinct preferences for any one candidate at this time, take the ground that the doubtful states must decide the question, and that the wishes of New York should be deferred to. It was noticeable that there was a large portion of the audience. possibly half, that did not participate in the applause.

Mr. George M. Traylor moved that Mr. George Hillyer be made temporary chairman The motion was carried, and Judge Hillyer

This motion carried, and the committee was appointed by Chairman Hillyer, as follows: Harvey Johnson, W. J. Albert, J. J. Toon, Hollis A. Boynton, Howard Williams, Thomas B. Neal and O. Reneau.

Mr. Frank H. Richardson moved that a committee of five be appointed to present resolutions for the meeting. The following committee was appointed on resolutions: Frank H. Richardson, A. D. Adair, L. P. Barnes, J. D. Shadden and J. C. Olmstead.

Mr. J. D. Shadden refused to serve on this committee, saying that he had not voted for a president since Jefferson Davis was elected. Mr. E. D. Cheshire was named by the chairman to fill his place.

He Escaped.

While these two committees were out a cealous Cleveland man said that Hon. Dupont Guerry, from another section of the state, was present and it would be a good idea to have him speak. The audience took to the idea and committee was appointed to escort Mr. Guerry to the stand. But the most diligent search failed to disclose to the committee his whereabouts. Twice they wandered up and down the aisles scanning faces on either side, out he was not to be found.

In desperation, they looked behind the

He had escaped. Mr. Hoke Smith was then called for and poke for about twenty minutes. He said leveland would get the mugwump vote in New York, if nominated, and Hill wouldn't. At the close of his speech, the committee on the selection of officers made its report through

The coming of these musicians is as the note of the robin sounding the coming of spring. The audiences at both performances were delighted. Never will they forget such a rare musical treat. Miss Barnard won the higest praise from every one in the opera kense. Her voice is as sweet and sympathetic as a chime of bells, and leaves a memory as the murmuring of the sea. She has her voice under perfect control, and has cultivated it to the very highest point of perfection. She keeps her voice well in hand, and makes no wild ibreaks and attempts no hurdles too high for her, as do some well-known singars. Nor does she slay at a note that is at all difficult. Her first song on the programme was heartily encored, and she responded with that touching descriptive song, 'The Soldier Boy,' and brought tears by her pathetic rendition. The future holds bright promise for Miss Barnard.

The Site Not Yet Selected.—The site for the new business block of the commission merchant has not been selected yet. Several sites are under consideration, but the old elevator property of Spring street is considered, perhaps, the mose eligible, provided it can be made accessible by good driveways on both sides of the railroads.

Randall's Minstrels .- On the 18th instant

Randall's minstrels will be in Atlanta, and it is certain that a crowded house will greet the boys. Four of the company are Atlanta men, and good ones they are when it comes to taking gags and jolly songs and dances. The company is said to be first-class in every particular, the principal performers being professionals.

Changed His Mind .- D. W. Barry, the man changed His Mind.—D. W. Barry, the man who decided to spend the balance of his life in jail, changed his mind yesterday. He will go up to the United States court today and swear that he is not able to pay the fine, and Sheriff Morrow will telegraph to Sheriff Brum, of Haralson county, to come back to Atlanta for him.

A Barbed Wire Fence.—Sunday evening Dr. J. P. Thomas, coming from West End, at tempted to catch a car for the city. In crossing tempted to caten a car for the city. In crossing the West End Baptist church yard at a full run he came in contact with a barbed wire fence, and came to a halt.

SAVANNAH, Ga., February 8.—The pilot boa'
Mary Odell today landed at this port the twe mates and four seamen belonging to the Norwegian bark Almaria, of Arendal, from Liverpool for Savannah, which went ashore on the south end of Warsaw Sunday night in a thick fog. A strong southerly wind with a heavy swell drove the versel on shore, and she filled with water. She was abandoned about 71 o'clock that night, the crew taking to the boats, which became separated in the fog, and one boat containing the captain and seven men is still missing, but it is probable they have landed on Warsaw island.

haracterizations are wonderfully clear and true on nature.

As Tony Lumpkin, the good-natured booby, rought up in the stable and spoiled in the drawing som, Mr. Clarke repeated his former success, le differs from Mr. Stuart Robson's idea of the haracter and gives us instead of an implish, stuborn blockhend, a mischievous and altogether wable Tony, full of fun and animal spirits.

Miss Victory Bateman made an ideal Kate, ombining all the freshness of youth with the bud flovely womanhood. Her pertness of manner and quizzical effrontery as the barmaid as admiringly portrayed, whilst in more serious scenes with Young arlow, she displayed all the womanly eling and love that Goldsmith has given to her autiful creation.

Mr. Hale and Wr. Calcort examped their former

Mr. Bokee made an admirable Old Hardcastle, times remmining us strongly of the late John Ibert. Mrs. Dickson was a good Mrs. Hardstle, and played the scene about the stolen wels with Tory with a great deal of spirit. Miss ward looked well, and was acceptable as Conance. Miss Howard is an Atiant, woman who s many admirers here. The piece was well ontice, and altogether better played than when st produced here.

HILL AND GRAY.

e Exposition Directors Liberally Grant | That Is the Ticket Which Harrison and His Friends Fear,

SO SAYS HARRISON'S RIGHT-HAND MAN.

Ex-Governor Porter and R. R. Shiel, Both Leading Indiana Republicans, Talk-Harrison Atraid of Hill.

Ex-Governor Albert G. Porter, of Indiana, the present United States minister to Italy, arrived in Atlanta yesterday and is at the Kimball. He is accompanied by Mr. R. R. Shiel, who is one of Indiana's best republican politicians, and by Mr. Richards, business manager of The Indianapolis Evening News. These gentlemen have been making a tour of the south in a private car. They have visited Nashville, Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, St. Augustine and Savannah.

Ex-Governor Porter held the executive chair of Indiana from 1881 to 1884. He had previously been comptroller of the United States treasury and law partner of President Harrison, whose life-long friend he has been. The law firm was Porter & Harrison, Governor Porter being the senior member.
"I am not talking on political questions," said he to a Constitution reporter. "Mr. Shiel will discuss politics."

Minister Porter, it will be remembered, had charge of the Rome end of the diplomatic correspondence with Italy, which grew out of the killing of the Mafinists in New Orleans last March. "All during that correspondence," said he, "I was treated pleasantly by the Italian officials and by the people. There was no excitement and one would not have known from the people that anything unusual was going on. The Italians are a jolly people, good natured though impulsive, eco honest. Doors can be left open with safety. No one ever bothers to lock the room door at a hotel. In fact were you to do so, the proprietor would send for the key, as there is only one to several doors."

The minister is at home on a leave of absence, pending Baron Fava's absence from this country. Governor Porter expects to re-

Mr. Shiel is President Harrison's next-door neighbor at Indianapolis. He is an enthusiastic Harrison man and he is a good one. The republican party has no harder or better worker in Indiana than Mr. Shiel.
"The republicans will renominate President Harrison and Vice President Morton, and they will be winners. We have no doubt about carrying Indiana next fall," he declared. "What do you think the democratic ticket will be?" Mr. Shiel was asked.

"It looks to us as though it would be Hill and Gray. That will be the logic of the sitution, to say nothing of the political work that the friends of those gentlemen will do."

"What is your estimate of Hill and Gray?"
"I would call them master mechanics in politics. I do not hesitate to say that the re-publicans would dread that ticket more than any other the democrats could nominate. The coming national campaign will be the hottest one we have seen in our time, and I do not look for the republicans to win easily. We will have to work hard and keep our eyes open, for there are democrats who, after an election, can make a figure 2 look so much like a 3 that an expert can't tell anything about it."

Mr. Richards, of The Indianapolis News, is also a republican. The editor of The News is a democrat and the paper is independent and the most successful one in the state.

Mr. Shiel, while taking an active interest in politics, declines office himself. He is one of the most solid business men of Indianapolis, and wields a powerful personal influence. Last night the visitors were called upon at the hotel by Judge Newman, General Lewis, Hon Tom Glenn, Mr. P. J. Moran, United States Attorney S. A. Darnell, Mr. E. A. Angier, Marshal Buck and others. At 10 o'clock the ex-governor and his friends were entertained at the Capital City Club.

The consecrators will be: Bishop Richard H. Wilmer, of Alabama; Bishop Theodore B. Lyman, of North Carolina; Bishop Leighton Coleman, of Delaware; Bishop George W. Peterkin, of West Virgmia, and Bishop Courtlandt Whitehead, of Pittsburg.

The Right Rev. Nelson Rulison, bishop of central Pennsylvania, will preach the consecration sermon. The attending presbyters will be: Rev. Dr. C. C. Williams, of Augusta, Ga.; Rev. Dr. J. G. Minegarode, of Louisville, Ky.

The master of ceremonies will be Rev. Dr. R. S. Barrett, dean of St. Luke's. It was at first intended that tickets of admission would be used, but that plan has been changed. Seats will, however, be reserved for the personal friends of the bishop-elect, for all of the members of the diocesan convention and for all persons invited by the authority of the standing committee.

The whole number of seats reserved will be 275, leaving for general admission 525.

The decision goes further and forbids discriminating rates to be made against competing roads, this clause having special application to short lines reaching competitive points.

For two or three months the Central has refused, I am told, to exchange business with the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery at Lyons, their junction point, and in consequence the latter has been practically shut out of Savannah, but this decision seems to put the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery in a position to chard now and enforce its rights.

THE NEW YORK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock

NEW YORK, February 8.—The stock market today was more active than any day for years, and we must go back to the panie of 1886 for a parallel to the enormous business transacted in both stocks and bonds at the stock exchange today. Coal stocks were again a great feature of today, and unprecedented activity IR Reading was not only maintained but anyware not only the notation of the n Reading was not only maintained but surpassed, the transactions in that stock being the largest ever known on exchange. The late strength developed in Anthracite properties was fully maintained, and heavy advances were scored in all of them. For some time this morning there was nothing in the market but Coal stocks and Erie, while the latter was also heavily in demand, on the theory that anything which helped the coal trade would be of benefit to Erie. The transactions in these stocks were more than half of the total business of the day. The improvement in values was extremely sharp in early trading, but with values was extremely sharp in early trading, but with diminution of enormous trading prices became more settled, while the best prices were not reached till the last hour. There were frequent fluctuations in the downward direction. The extreme advance in Lackawanna reached 6½ per cent, in Jersey Central U4, and in Reading 4½ per cent, Delaware and Hudion being more moderate in its changes, while Eric rose 2½ per cent. The strength in coal stocks did not affect the rest of the list, to saw appreciable extent affect the rest of the list to any appreciable extent during the early trading, and the bears and traders during the early trading, and the bears and traders were still disposed to hammer the general list as usual, and in Union Pacific over 1 per cent was lost before a stimulus reached the rest of the list. Steady and unprecedented gains, however, made shorts uncass, and as the morning wore away more attention was paid to Grangers, Louisville and Nashville, and Northern Pacific preferred, as well as to low-priced specialties, and prices began to rise, and before the close of business early losses had not only been recovered, but material amounts in addition, Burlington, Northern Pacific preferred, Union Pacific and some others being, by turns, remarkable for the advances made. being, by turns, remarkable for the advances made being, by turns, remarkable for the advances made. There was a sharp reaction in Coaiers in the last few minutes, but while Lackawanna dropped from 1.59 to 1.57 it closed at 1.58, with others in proportion. The rest of the list was held well and the market closed active and strong, generally close to the highest price of the day. The unlisted department was quite neglected and the total transactions were controlled to the propose of the final changes in the access like only 6,000 shares. The final changes in the general list are all large fractional advances, but Lackawanna is up 614, Reading 4, Jersey Central 312 and Erie 125 per cent. NEW YORK, February 8.-The London market NEW YORK, February 8.—The London market opened weaker and remained so all morning. They sold in this market about 20,000 shares and this held our market back for the time being. The Coal stocks opened with the same feeling of bouyancy that has existed in the stocks the last few days, and the buying in both the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Reading was something that the street has not witnessed in a long time. The trading at the opening in Reading was so tremendous that 70,000 shares of it changed hands in the first eight minutes. The buying was mostly to Philade.pha account, but after the buying was traced to the Drexel-Morgan interest the plan as proposed and virtually settled upon, consists of one sales agent for all the companies and puts them in such a position that cutting prices is a matter of impossibility. The shorts in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western were again given a little squeeze, and the stock commanded as high as 1 per cent for borrowing.

That price was bid for quite some time. The people that are working the stock were sorry that the borrowing rate was screwed up to that height, and it was not their intention, but as the short interest was so heavy and they were so very anxious that they ran up the price to that rate. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Reading closed with a tremendous advance and if this plan turns out to be a success, of which we have no doubt, these stocks in time will sell a great deal higher. On the other hand the great damwhich we have no doubt, these stocks in time will sell a great deal higher. On the other hand the great damage to this combination is that the press throughout the country may attack the plan and plead the ause of the poor man. This in turn would effect adverse legislation, which might ruin the plans of the gentlemen of the local combination. The bears made an attack on the general list, but they soon found out that they were wasting powder. The bulls have again taken control, and as they have a good short interest to work upon they will probably succeed in bringing about a higher level of prices. Of the Coalers we prefer Reading and Eric. The former has had quite a rise, but the latter is still low. It will not surprise us to but the latter is still low. It will not surprise us to see Europe buy a good deal of Erie tomorrow.

Lehman Bros.' Cotton Letter. NEW YORK, February 8.-The advices from Liverool this morning were exceedingly encouraging, the advance of 2-64d there, showing no response to the weak market on this side Saturday. The better feel ing abroad resulted in a fractional advance here this ing abroad resulted in a fractional advance here this morning which, however, was again subsequently entirely lost, the market declining in all about 10 points from the highest of this morning owing to estimates here of 33,000 bates at New Orleans tomorrow. Considering such receipts it is surprising that the market has not yielded to a greater extent. It seems, however, that there has been such an enormous liquidation during the recent past that much of the pressure of selling out by weak longs, is thus removed in addiduring the recent past that much of the pressure of selling out by weak longs is thus removed, in addition to which people are not tempted to sell short at current prices. The bears who sold this morning were therefore prepared and did buy back their earlier sales when the market declined, and their purchases in themselves were sufficient to cause the comparative stability today shown. It is altogether useless to offer any opinion as to the future course of the market. Receipts alone can influence values, and, while it must remain an undisputed fact that cotton is entirely too low, still we can look for no permanent advance until the crop movement shows some indication of a failing the crop movement shows some indication of a falling Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular By private wire to A. P. Youngblood.

NEW YORK, February 8.—The cotton market early this morning, despite the heavy receipts, showed a distinct tendency towards improvement. In Liverpool prices at one time were 3-64d better than on Saturday. The closing was barely steady, 2-64d higher than the finish of last week. Here, immediately after the opening, an advance of 3 to 4 points was established, and would have been maint. n. d. except for the enormous receipts predicted for New Orleans ton.orrow; 33,000 receipts predicted for New Orleans ton.orrow; 33,000 bales, it is said, will probably arrive there. Receipts at the ports on Saturday were 28,000 bales. Today they will probably be 45,000 bales, a total of 102,000 bales in three days. That the market holds up well in the face of such an avanache of citton is remarkable. Whether Liverpool will show a second such as a second such as a second such as the such as a second such as a Whether Liverpool will show an equal degree of stability tomorrow is a question. Many predictions of a panic amongst the holders of the enormous stock of panic amongst the holders of the enormous stock of cotton in Liverpool are heard, but the expected in speculation is rarely realized. There are, upon the other hand, many quietly investing in co-ton new, con-fident in the belief that the radical decline in prices is sure to result in a very much reduced production next season. In fact, a belief in such reduction is about the only hopeful factor in the situation at the moment.

During the afternoon the market remained steady. closing finally , without further change of impe closing finally, without further change of importance, steady at about 7 points under Saturday's prices. The comparative stability of the market in view of the comparative stability of the market in view of the comparative stability of the market in view of the tis conceded is due to investment purchases in large volume for account of a prominent house.

In early trading news was meager and seemed generally favorable for the bears. Liverpool was quoted weak and lower and domestic markets were generally easy. There were but few buying orders, while the general impression was that sales were most likely to prove profitable. New York and St. Louis operators had liberal selling orders here at the start and the pressure kept up for considerable time, but the local crowd finally joined the selling side, and a very weak feeling ruled. May opened at Sleeslige, and closed firm at Megslige. Closing cables reported Berlin it marks higher on wheat, and Antwerp 2s centimes higher; Paris was 20 centimes higher. There was some liberal buying around 91c the early part of the session. Later reports of large stocks in Paris and liberal selling orders by New York speculators caused rather a weak feeling and a decline to about 99½c. Later cables reported firmer prices in Berlin owing to the report that Russia was tuying wheat and importing it over the German frontier. Reports stated that 40 per cent of the French crop would have to be resown. These conditions changed the feature of our market from a weak to a very strong one; closing about ½c bid above Saturday's close. The weak feeling which prevailed in wheat about the opening entered into the corn pit, but it seems to require more than sentiment to depress prices and it very soon cut loose from wheat and became very strong.

There seems to be some good local speculators who believe in corn and oats and continue to buy heavily on all the weak spot. T THE STATEHOUSE.

the County School Commissioners Terms All to Expire Soon.

ALL TO BE ELECTED ON THE SAME DAY.

Mr. Julius Brown Calls His World's Fair Committee to Meet on the 24th Instant-Other Matters of Concern.

There was but little going on within the marble halls of the statehouse yesterday.

The state officers were still working on the widows' pension lists, each one having a great number of applicants for pensions making them their representatives.

With the exception of this work, the officers had but little to do but throw their feet over their desks and talk about the wonderful strength David B. Hill has developed in At-lanta and Georgia, as shown in the morning CONSTITUTION.

The governor made the following banks state depositories: The Commercial bank, of Albany; the Darien bank; South Georgia bank, of Waycross; the State Banking Company, of Gainesville; the Merchants, Val-losta, the Bank of Cordele.

A pardon was granted to George Oaks, who was convicted of assault and battery some time ago in the superior court of Fulton county and sentenced to the chaingang. His term has expired all but a month and it is shown that he is too sick to labor. For reasons ike this Governor Northen made him a free

The County School Commissioners. A very important order was issued by the missioner of education yesterday changing a time for electing county school commis-ners throughout the state. sioners throughout the state.

The order is interesting to all teachers and deducators in Georgia, and a copy of it will be sent out today to every county school commissioner. The

it will be sent out today to every county school commissioner. The order among other stipulations says:

The term of office of all the county school commissioners expires this year, and, with but, few exceptions, in March, April or May. In my judgment it is necessary for the faithful and efficient execution of the school laws with that uniformity in the interest of economy in time, labor and expense in this department, that the examination and election of all the county school commissioners of the state should be held on the same day. For the reasons above stated, I hereby designate and set apart Thursday, 10th of March next, as the day for the examination and election of county school commissioners throughout the state.

While it is not the province of the department of education to judge of the eligibility or qualifications of applicants for the office of county school commissioner, yet it is proper that I should call the attention of the boards of education to the barreat importance of filling this responsible office. Too much stress cannot be placed upon the duty of taking into consideration, in addition to the attisfactory examination of the applicants, their moral character, business qualifications and general availability."

The law makes the following requirements: Applicants must be citizens of the county—not, necessarily, freeholders.

The examination must be satisfactory—satisfactory to the board.

It is not a competitive examination.

In this connection I deem it my duty to call the tory to the board.

It is not a competitive examination.
In this connection I deem it my duty to call the tention of the boards of education to the folianting act passed by the late general assembly:
"No person shall hold, in any manner whatever, be commissioned to hold, more than one county fice, except by special enactment of the legisture heretofore or hereafter made; nor shall y commissioned officer be deputy for any other mmissioned officer be deputy for any other mmissioned officer, except by special enactment."

The World's Fair Work. Governor Northen continues to receive a arge number of letters from influential citi-eus of Georgia stating how enthusiastic they are at work endeavoring to aid him in the eat work he has so courageously undertaken and which he is carrying on so vigorously and and which he is carrying on so vigorously and so successfully.

Yesterday the governor received a copy of a letter sent out by Mr. Julius L. Brown, chairman of the committee on mines and mining.

Alr. Brown's committee is called to meet in Atlanta on the 24th instant, and he is imparting to each member much of that enthusiasm which he evinces so forcibly whenever he underly a work so important as this. In his dertakes a work so important as this. In his letter to each of his committeemen Mr. Brown

The governor has had confidence enough in us and in our love for the state of Georgia to appoint and in our love for the state of Georgia to appoint a committee on minerals and mining, and to make it our duty to get specimens and contributions for exhibition at Chicago, to be a part of the general exhibit of the state of Georgia at the world's fair, and the governor of Georgia expects at the dour duty and get a creditable collection of minerals, so that the state of Georgia will not be put to shame and reproach.

Are you a Georgian? Have you any state pride? Have you any desire to see your state properly represented at Chicago and before the world? If

Have you any desire to see your state properly represented at Chicago and before the world? If you have not and you have no such desire, then I suppose you will resign and get off the committee. We have no money, and it will require hard work. We cannot have any drones. In this hive all must be working bees.

We have no money to conduct this work, and we must rely upon the patriotism of Georgians and upon our own efforts. If you feel any interestin this matter, will you not go to work and do all in your power to help the cause?

In order that we may make a success of this matter i, as chairman of the committee, call a meeting of the committee to be held in the hall of the house of representatives, Atlanta, Ga., on Wednesday, the 24th day of February, 1892, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m.

Can you be present? If not, what can you do to compensate for the loss of your counsels?

What can you do in your section in the way of collecting minerals? Come down and letus confer together and see what can be done in the way of making an exhibit that will be a credit and an honor to the old state of Georgia.

Write me whether you can be here, and if not, when the content with the content with the content with the content when the content we have a confer to the old state of Georgia.

Write me whether you can be here, and if not, why not. Yours very truly, JULIUS L. BROWN, Chairman.

All Going to Cuthbert. Nearly every one of the statehouse officers will go down to Cuthbert today to attend the state agricultural convention.

The governor, Commissioner Nesbitt, of the agricultural department; Commissioner of Education Bradwell, Colonel Jones, of the penitentiary department, and Comptroller General Wright will be there.

Commissioner Netbitt says it is certain to be a very successful meeting. A ROCK THROWING,

They have put their heads together time time again to devise some scheme by which to see a realization of their dreams.

Yesterday a special called meeting of the commissioners was held, and all of the members of the board were present. Ders of the board were present.

The county map was the subject matter under consideration.

At the regular meeting of the board on Wednesday last the matter of letting out the contract for the completion of the map was otheract for the completion of the map was deferred until yesterday.

It will be remembered that work on the map has been going on for a space of nearly two years. County Engineer Baylor had the work in hand, and was well paid for his services. He progressed very slowly with the map, however—too slowly for the commissioners, and at the regular January meeting of the board he was called in and asked about the map. He replied that he was at work on it, and would complete it as soon as possible.

A number of other questions were asked, and as the replies were not entirely satisfactory, a motion was made and carried that Mr. Baylor's services be dispensed with.

Since then the work on the new county map has been at a standstill, but the commissioners have been very eager to have it begun again.

has been at a standstill, but the commissioners have been very eager to have it begun again.

They, decided to let thecontract for the completion of the map to some engineer. Bids were advertised for, and at yesterday's meeting a number were received and opened.

The bids opened were as follows: M. F. Sullivan, $500: Henry T. McDaniel, $300; Charles L. Roberts, $775; E. B. Latham, $750; Davis, Edward & Krug, $1,650.

These bidders proposed to take up the work on the map as it now is, and complete it for the sum named in the bids.

Price $200, $10 eash, balance $6 per month. No interest. Larger lots or acreage, if desired. Terms very reasonable. Our lake covers thirty-five acres of ground. The plans for pavilion, 200x200 feet, is now being drawn. Also plans for boat and bathhouses. The lake is pure spring water, clear as crystal. Over 300 houses will be erected during the spring within twenty miles of Atlanta. The lake and grounds will be lighted by electricity, generated by our own plant. The company have commenced on their car line, connecting East Lake with the Decatur dummy line. Now is the time to buy if you wish to get a home on easy terms. East Lake is just 4½ miles due east from carshed. Plats can be seen in our office. Call on or address T. C. HAMPTON, Sec'y, jan9d3m 2 S. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga.

H L. WILSON, Auctioneer

The lots alone will be worth double the money in a short while. The company will have a car line connecting Soldiers' Home with Berlin Heights running by April 1st. Several elegant suburban residences will be built there shortly. No expense will be spared by the company to make Berlin Heights a place of beauty and comfort. A park of three acres is reserved. For further particulars and maps, call on or address FOR SALE TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER 10 Choice, Close-in Residence Lots 10.

Wednesday, February, 10 at 3 O'Clock, On Piedmont Ave., Courier and Pine Sts.

On Picdmont Ave., Courier and Pine 8ts.

These valuable lots are 50x150 feet, level and convenient to car lines, churches and schools, splendid sidewalks, with gas, water and sewerage; no better location for first-class homes, with the most desirable surroundings, can be found on the most hide of Atlanta. Parties desiring lots near the business center of the city will find it to their interest to attened this sale and secure a lot to build upon. Such places are growing scarce annually, and with an increase of population at the rate of 10,000 to 12,000 a year, this property cannot long remain so cheap. Now is the opportunity of your life. It will pay you to secure a lot, whether you intend to build this year or not, because they will cost you 25 per cent more money one year later. On the southeast corner of Piedmont ave. and Pine street, there is a nice sung 5-room cottage ready for occupancy at once. This will be the most opportune time to get a bargain that you can probably ever have. The owner desires to go abrod at an early date and has instructed me absolutely to sell the property for what it will bring. Titles all right. Terms ½ cash, balance 6, 12, 18 and 24 months.

This is one of the times in the Tailoring Department with us that is a bright reminiscence for many a day with those who take advantage of the chance. Twenty cents saved on every dollar you spend there. Don't you think the liberal discount warrants generous patronage? The machinery of the Tailoring Store is not allowed to rust by idleness. All's life and activity there now.

YOUR FIT IS HERE. SUITS AT A SACRIFICE.

The sales of last month were great beyond precedent. Larger than we had reason to hope they would be. Added testimony to the broad-gauge policy that inspires the power to do with the wisdom of how to do. But do not for one single instant suppose that the triumph of a grand success leads us to relaxed effort. "Innocuous desuetude" is not in our programme. Our whole organization is at present directed towards making popular the exceptional Suit Sale now progressing here. Its equal in point of cheapness has never been known in this city. Come before the choicest plums are sold.
